

Diabetes Resource Guide

Mission

The mission of this network is to raise community awareness about diabetes prevention and control while working towards the reduction of morbidity and mortality of diabetes in eastern Washington.

Background

The Eastern Washington Diabetes Network is a group comprised of individuals from area organizations working as researchers, clinicians, disease managers, health administrators, educators, public health and social service workers.

Local and regional activities are designed by the Network that adhere to the Washington State Diabetes Plan. The Network spans across ten eastern Washington counties and strives to raise community awareness about diabetes while working towards the reduction of morbidity and mortality of diabetes in eastern Washington.
